

LIEPWE VAN DEERWEN
FANTASIE OP 72

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a section heading, located in the center of the page. It appears to be written in a cursive or semi-cursive script, but the specific words are difficult to decipher due to the image quality.

A handwritten musical score on ten staves. The notation is in ink and appears to be from the 18th or 19th century. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The music is written in a style that includes many beamed sixteenth and thirty-second notes, suggesting a fast tempo. There are various musical symbols such as slurs, ties, and dynamic markings (e.g., 'p' for piano) scattered throughout. The paper is aged and slightly discolored, with some faint smudges and a small tear near the bottom center.

And

A handwritten musical score on eight staves. The notation is in ink and includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and beams. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The music is written in a style characteristic of 18th or 19th-century manuscript notation. There are several large, sweeping lines across the middle staves, possibly indicating phrasing or corrections. The paper is aged and slightly discolored.

L. B. 1844

A handwritten musical score on ten staves. The notation is dense and includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and clefs. The paper is aged and yellowed, with some ink bleed-through visible from the reverse side. The handwriting is in dark ink, and the overall style suggests a historical or personal manuscript. The staves are arranged in a single column, and the notation is continuous across the page.
